

AER Employee of the Quarter – Kyle Lindquist instrumental in development of the Over the Horizon Radar project

AER Employee of the Quarter Award (2Q19)

Congratulations to Kyle!

Kyle has been instrumental in the development of the Over the Horizon Radar (OTH) project from his start here at AER. Kyle has worked closely with others in the group to plan and develop the project from the ground up. He has also worked closely with the Air Force Research Laboratory (AFRL) customer to answer questions and provide solutions wherever needed. He's been full time on OTH since he started with AER in 2018 and has already proven himself an invaluable asset for the company.
